As we move towards the end of the A303 Sparkford to Ilchester scheme, we need to carry out some work that may impact you.

What's happening?

To allow us to finish the roundabout on the local road between the Bakery and Plowage Lane, we need to close Steart Hill overbridge to vehicular traffic.

When is it happening?

The Steart Hill overbridge will be closed to vehicular traffic from 11 September for three weeks. Access over the bridge for pedestrians and cyclists will remain open. If there is a delay to work being completed, we will keep you informed.

A signed diversion will be in place for people wanting to travel from Downhead/north side of the bridge to West Camel and the bakery. Travelling from Downhead, traffic will take the east bound slip road by Steart Hill overbridge on to the A303, then off at the slip road to take you to Sparkford roundabout. Traffic will then take the west bound slip road from Sparkford roundabout to rejoin the west bound carriageway of the A303 to come off at the temporary junction by Zayn's Diner and travel on to West

Camel/the Bakery.

To travel from West Camel/ the Bakery to Downhead, traffic will join the A303 west bound at the Zayn's Diner junction and travel to Podimore roundabout, to rejoin the A303 east bound and then exit the A303 at the junction before Steart bridge.

If you have any questions about the closure, or would like more general information on how the scheme is progressing, please email us at A303SparkfordtoIlchesterDualling@nationalhighways.co.uk.
